Waz Happin:

The following comes from our own Mogens Neilsen:

I mentioned this at the last meeting, but just in case you weren't there or forget about it: I am showing a collection of prints at the Coffee Affair in West Chester this month. A mixture of Urban and nature shots. I am pleased to report that the initial reception has been very good. If you have a chance please come by, enjoy the coffee and the pictures and let me know how you like the display.

The Coffee Affair is located at the intersection of the Cincinnati-Dayton and the West Chester-Lesourdsville roads in the old West Chester. They are closed on Sunday.

Commentary - Ed.

It's really a big deal when our members display their images locally. It's grass roots art at its best. We share our photos at the club meetings and accept the slings and arrows of our fellow club members in the context of constructive criticism with the expectation that our photography will improve based upon the input provided. It's another thing totally to hang your images on a wall and let the public (non-photographer slegs that they are) wander in for an iced la'te and stand in front of your work and comment. Takes courage. Way to go Mogens!.

ps. Anyone who drinks an iced la'te is a woos and their opinion on photographic art doesn't count for squat anyway!
