Please, please

I may have one of the worst handwritings in the club, but I do get competition at times. When you enter your name and photo titles on the competition sheets, please try to do a better job than me. Reading the copy of the score sheets is getting really tricky at times.

Newsletter on the web site?

Rob Coomer, Bob Ihrig and I have discussed the feasibility of adding the newsletter to the website. The idea is to reduce duplication of information and also to "streamline" our club publication. Bob mentioned the idea at the last meeting, but due to the limited attendance we will take it up at the next meeting in June. We have always had a linkage to the newsletter on the website, in addition to the direct emailing and hard copies. Come prepared to share your ideas and possible comments.

Jerry Carpenter

(This was scheduled to appear in the last newsletter but accidentally got left out. Sorry!)

A lot of changes were made in 2006, primarily to transition more aggressively into the "digital age". We do not always appreciate the effort that goes into implementing changes and making the club go forward. Here are a few words from Don Wiedeman:

Many thanks to Jerry Carpenter, our 2006 President, who provided our club with great leadership during his tenure. Jerry introduced the Member Personal Profile, and the Featured Photographer at the monthly meetings. He led the discussion for adoption of the competition categories for 2007 and 2008 and by-law revisions which opened the way for competition in informal (digital) prints. He gave generously of his time to support all club activities, especially the exhibits and field trips. "One never knows by the size of the frog how far it can jump!" Thanks, Jerry!

Nikon F100 for sale

For those of us who are doing primarily digital photography there is still a desire to do real films now and then. If that is you, here is a real chance to pick up a great camera at the right price. I am very reluctantly letting my Nikon F100 go. I intend to sell it to B&H but want to give the club members a chance first.

It is as new (less than 25 rolls of film taken) and it comes with the Nikon MB-15 power grip. The B&H price for a 8+ condition unit is about $450 and this one is at condition 10, virtually right out of the box. Their price of a used power grip is about $60. If you are interested, please give me a call 513-829-5739.

Cumberland Falls 2007

Tristate Photographic Society has only four people representing them this year.

Wilda Everman, Jeannette Kennedy, and John Szabo competed in slide film.

Dale Voelker competed in digital master.

There were a few changes to categories this year. The categories were Forest Floor including wild flowers, Forest Wildlife, Scenic including wet and wild, and Abstract in Nature. There was a best for show for each division: slide film, digital amateur, and digital master. You were only allowed to enter four slides in any combination in the four categories.

After the first cut, which shows the top ten in each category for each division, Wilda Everman had three slides in, Jeannette Kennedy had one slide in, and John Szabo had four slides in. Dale Voelker had all four of his digital images in.

SLIDE DIVISION
